Subject: [REDACTED] - Compensation to those affected by institutional abuse

To Commissioners,

I absolutely agree that those affected should be properly compensated as distinct from "confidential agreements" that may have already occurred.

However, I absolutely disagree that the Government (i.e. the taxpayers) should compensate those affected, as it is the ultimate and sole responsibility of these institutions, many of which have very, very substantial funds and assets, to bear the total cost of, and I hope generous, compensation.

And then there is the question of punitive charges, resulting from their inaction etc., to these institutions which according to current media reports has not been mentioned.

Respectfully yours,

Joseph Maher
